

Why Customers Choose SFI Electronics

General

- Multiple regional SFI offices offering comprehensive security solutions, service and technical support.
- Named one of the 40 largest US security systems integrators by Security Distributing and Marketing magazine (based on revenues).
- Established reputation for competence in all areas—technical, service, financial and administrative.
- Solid financial reputation with the highest Dun & Bradstreet credit rating.
- Continuity of ownership and management since 1977.
- High single-project and aggregate bonding limits for payment and performance bonds.
- High insurance limits which meet or exceed customer requirements (liability / workers compensation / vehicle).
- Flexibility to perform projects of all sizes—small to very large.
- No pending or past judgments, claims, arbitration proceedings or lawsuits relating to projects or failure to complete work awarded.
- Meets all state licensing and employee registration requirements (NC, SC, VA, GA, FL, and TN).

Field Service & Support

- SFI services what it sells.
- SFI gives field service the highest priority in our daily operations.
- SFI understands the urgency of our customers' service requirements.
- SFI's success is built on its reputation for customer service and support.
- SFI will not install equipment and systems if we cannot service or honor warranties on a timely basis.

Technical

- Experienced employees—many with 15 to 25 years of service—who provide a solid foundation for our company in engineering, project management, service and installation.
- Dedication to continuing employee education, training and development to insure that SFI provides state-of-the-art security solutions to our customers.
- Long-standing partnerships with many reputable manufacturers and suppliers of security equipment (some extending over 25 years).
- All security systems sold and installed by SFI are non-proprietary and can be supported by other systems integrators.
- Subcontractors are not used to install security equipment sold by SFI. Subs used only for high-voltage electrical and specialty work, such as gates.

SFI Affiliations

- Security Forces, Inc.—SFI's parent company established in 1949—is one of the largest privately owned security officer companies in the US.
- SFI is a member of SecurityNet, a group of leading independent security systems integrators that offer customers in the US and abroad a single source for local and global support.

Safety Act Designation

- In 2007 after reviewing and evaluating SFI Electronics' Security System Integration Services, the Department of Homeland Security designated SFI's Integration Services as Qualified Anti-terrorism Technology and issued a Designation for the Technology to SFI Electronics under the SAFETY Act.
